AGREE IN SUIT FOR GUARDIAN

Mrs. Hettie Cook and Mrs. Valeria Dickey Ask Judge Megee to Instruct Jury for Defense

CASE ENDS VERY SUDDENLY

Children of Alfred Cook are Reconciled After Amicable Settlement is Reached Today.

The case of Hettie Cook and Valeria Dickey, for the appointment of a guardian for their father, Alfred Hood, came to a sudden end this morning in the circuit court when an agreement was reached and Judge Megee instructed the jury to bring in a verdict for the defendant, Mr. Hood.

The defense was still introducing evidence when the agreement was reached. The fact was made known to the court and Judge Megee was asked to instruct the jury to return a verdict for the defendant, which was done. The case has attracted wide interest and was one of the hardest fought legal battles here for some time. An effort was being made to have a guardian appointed for Mr. Hood, who is an aged man. It was alleged that he was of unsound mind.

The two sisters, Mrs. Robert Cook and Mrs. Dickey, were lined up against their father and two brothers, Enoch Hood of Indianapolis and Van Hood of Carthage. Will M. Sparks and Charles Ramey were the attorneys for the plaintiffs while the defense was represented by John H. Kiplinger and Ed K. Adams. It was not expected that the case would end before Monday evening as the defense still had a number of witnesses. The court room was crowded at all times during the trial. The case resembled a will case very closely.

Following the verdict of the jury the two sides of the family which were divided during the trial became reconciled and the scenes in the court room was very touching as the two daughters made up their differences and their father and two brothers. The family which has been divided for some time, became united after the verdict was announced.

The case had been in progress since Wednesday morning when the jury was selected and the first evidence heard. The first witness was Mr. Hood. By the agreement the plaintiffs as good as admitted that they had not made a case and the agreement was considered probably the best for all concerned.

A change of time will take effect on the L. E. & W. tomorrow. The train will leave Newcastle at 8:30 a. m. and will arrive here at 10. The return train for Newcastle will leave here at 11.

Rushville Tot Almost Brings Out The Richmond Fire Department

Little Judith Mauzy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Mauzy, has a habit of pulling four numbers on the dial of the automatic telephone, pushing the button and then talking to whoever chances to answer. There is an automatic system in Richmond, and while visiting there, the little girl did the same thing.

It happened one day that she called the fire department. The fireman who answered the telephone heard an excited child's voice at the other end of the line. He imagined all sorts of dire calamities. Of course, he

PLAY FEATURES THE RECEPTION

Juniors Mark Annual Event for Seniors With New Departure and Win Many Compliments.

HELD IN GRAHAM SCHOOL GYM

Decorations Add to Attractiveness of Reception—Playlet is Decided Success.

A general air of secrecy which has pervaded the preparation for the annual reception of the junior class of the high school to the seniors ceased to be a matter for mysterious conference last night when the juniors sprung their surprise by presenting to their guests William Dean Howells' clever little skit, "The Mousetrap," in the gymnasium at the Graham high school building.

The reception was so different, and withal so original and unique, that it was voted the best one ever given here. The comedy was so well played and the lines were so replete with artifice and salient humor that the hundred or more persons present, including the faculty and members of the two classes, were kept in almost continual uproar of laughter.

The reception marked a new departure in commencement festivities.

Heretofore the reception has been held in a home of a member of the junior class, but the class agreed this year that the gymnasium should be given a trial, and there is no one to-day to admit but that it was an unqualified success.

The junior class members have been striving by the use of all the ingenuity at their command and at the command of the class sponsors, Miss Kate Dennis and L. B. Snelser, members of the faculty, to outdo the junior reception last year.

The gymnasium was converted into a veritable forest. Boughs from far and wide were gathered and festooned about the walls and over the ceiling so that all of the appearance of barrenness was taken from the room. A color scheme of green and yellow was carried out with wonderful effect. Fifty electric lanterns, radiating a mellow glow of green and yellow, were interlaced among the foliage. Patches of yellow flowers here and there added to the attractiveness of the decorations.

Rugs covered the bleachers of the gymnasium and another barren spot was removed. Palms on pedestals were used to excellent advantage and large comfortable rockers and roomy benches smothered in pillows added to the cozy atmosphere of the "gym."

It would be unfair to say that any member of the cast of "The Mousetrap" shone any more brilliantly than the other, because they were all equally good and their acting made the one-act comedy the best home-talent production here in years. True, it was not pretentious, but it required some skill and a good bit of cleverness to carry off the parts as they were done.

Miss Marion Scholl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Scholl, as Mrs. Somers, fiancee of Willie Campbell (Merle Maupin) acted what might be termed the leading role with wonderful grace and naturalness. Merle Maupin was also very fine. The whole performance moved off with an ease that marks only professional productions.

Mrs. Somers is an anti-suffragette. She admits it. Her fiance calls, as misfortune would have it, as she is reading his speech made against woman suffrage before a legislative body. His remarks about the lack of courage in woman arouse her to an

LAST DELEGATES RETURN TODAY

Rush County Club Women Glad That They Won 1915 Meeting of Sixth District Federation.

BIG TASK IN FRONT OF THEM

Delegates in Closing Day's Convention Endorse State Constitutional Convention.

The last of the Rush county delegates to the annual meeting of the Sixth District Federation of Woman's Clubs arrived home today delighted with the fact that they had won the 1915 convention for this city.

They realize they had a big task in front of them because there were three hundred women at Richmond yesterday and there will be equally as many here. It has been the custom for not many to attend the first day's meeting, but because of the central location of Rushville, it is believed that the attendance here will be almost as large the first day as the last.

There was some indication that the federation might take some action on the suggestion that the plan be changed; that each delegate pay for her own entertainment rather than be entertained by the women of the city, but the matter did not come up for consideration. There was also a movement afoot to advocate a more simplified dress for the functions attending the meeting, but this was not brought before the convention.

Organization of county federations must be the aim for which the city federations of each county must work, according to Mrs. Virginia Meredith, of Cambridge City, well known over the state and a member of half the clubs of Wayne county.

She expressed this opinion yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Meredith deplored the failure of clubs in Cambridge City, Milton, Dublin and Hagerstown to answer letters of Miss Edna Johnson, of Richmond, who was in charge of the formation of a county federation and who called a session of delegates from every un federated club in the county. Not a delegate was sent and not a club answered the letter, Miss Johnson said.

It was when Miss Johnson, as county chairman, spoke of this apparent lack of interest by the un federated clubs in the western part of the county that Mrs. Meredith called attention to the methods she believed wrong in organizing the county federation.

"Club women have failed for twenty-five years in this, and they will continue to fail for the next twenty-five years," Mrs. Meredith declared.

"Not until they use the right methods of federating, will they succeed. As far as speaking of 'county' and 'city' clubs in the Sixth district is concerned, according to statistical figures, Richmond is the only place where there can be a city federation because towns under 6,000 are 'country.' I am sorry that the country clubs in the western part of the county were so unbusinesslike as to fail to answer Miss Johnson's letter."

In her report, Miss Johnson confined her talk to what was done by the clubs of Richmond, this city being the only one where the federation exists.

Instead of giving the specific work of each club, Miss Johnson generalized and told of the work of the federation. She gave full credit to the Richmond Commercial club for taking hold of the movements started by clubs belonging to the federation and

The Orphans Of Merchandise

The public likes to know the percentage of the things for which it is asked to spend its good money.

A name made familiar through advertising carries with it a certain pedigree. It breathes respectability and responsibility.

Dealers find that they are moving with the popular current when they display goods of known make and name.

When those goods have been made known through the columns of their home newspaper and dealers know they are carrying wares that have been introduced to their customers, and that are desired by their customers.

The logic of good merchandising is to give the people what they want.

If You Were Indicted for Murder---

would you care to be tried before a jury whose minds were on other affairs and who would not listen to your testimony? The chances are you would want men who would give their whole attention to your case. You may never be tried for murder but the same proposition applies to every business transaction you make. When you want to buy an article go to the man that specializes that article. Now for instance if you need a vehicle of any kind—that is where I ring in. That is why I can give you better vehicle values, better styles and better service. My whole time and attention is centered on one thing. Every day in the year, Mr. Vehicle Buyer, I am working to obtain better prices and better style for you to make your selections from. Place your business with a man who creates new styles and is working at the business every day to give you satisfaction. I want your vehicle business and don't you think it is a better proposition to place it with me than with some one that is selling buggies as a side issue?

ger. Thinking to test her courage and prove his own contentions, Campbell suggests that he believes he may have heard a mouse. Mrs. Somers, mounting a chair as hastily as possible, becomes panicky.

In this position three friends find her when they come to call. Jane, the maid, Miss Marion Sparks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Sparks, presents the callers' cards, but she, too, loses all of her womanly courage and takes refuge in a chair when a mouse is mentioned. The callers finally force their way in. Gladys Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wallace, took the part of Mrs. Miller; Gladys Titworth, daughter of John Titworth, the part of Mrs. Curwen, and Madolion Cooning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cooning, the part of Mrs. Bemis. The explanation that a mouse is loose in the room causes them all to leap to chairs and tables. In the next instant, Mrs. Roberts, sister of Campbell, (Miss Anna Amos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Amos,) arrives. She too, follows suit in mounting a chair.

In this funny situation, then, brilliant repartee ensues much to the amusement of the guests. Campbell tries to reassure the courageous suffragettes. He explains there is no mouse in the room. All attempts of his to flee are frustrated. While discussing a reception, the women agree on an organized movement to get out of the room. They carry out the plans all screaming at once and rush for the door. The hostess, in her agony, forgot to leave her pedestal. She berates Campbell for what she terms an ungentlemanly trick when he confesses the subterfuge to test her boasted courage. He pleads with her to leave the chair because there is no mouse. She demures; he insists. He says that were he her fiance, he would take her in his arms and bear her from the room, but since she has called it off, there is nothing to do but depart. But she will not allow it. She speaks in terms as if she were he and he were she. She admits that if she were the courageous man he is, she would use force. Then the curtain dropped.

Miss Marion Scholl, Miss Madolion Cooning, Miss Gladys Wallace, Miss Ramona Eubank, Floyd French and Merle Maupin were the class reception committee. Miss Cooning is the class president; Freda Schatz the treasurer and Miss Anna Amos the secretary. The juniors who were in charge of the dining room were Miss Adeline West, Miss Fern Finley and Miss Nellie Drake, Dorothy Sparks, Elizabeth Tevis, Lora Spurrier, Louise Hogsett, Margaret Ball and Lois Reeves served.

The seats were removed from one of the class rooms and it was converted into a dining room. Refreshments of cake, cream and mints were served and the only light in the room was a green candle on each table for four.

In closing the class prophecy was given. The company reappeared on the stage and graphophone was pulled to the center of the stage. The business of placing on a record and winding the thing was carried out and then came the usual sputtering attending the start of the instrument. From behind the scenes L. B. Smelser read the prophecy, intimating a graphophone perfectly.

The players were coached by Mr. Smelser and Miss Dennis was in charge of the other arrangements for the function. Rehearsal was started for the play only two weeks ago.

MUCH LIKE THE UNITED STATES

Government of Mexico Follows Much Same Lines as Ours, Having Two Houses of Congress.

THE CHURCH IS INDEPENDENT

Congress is Jealous of Being Shunted out of Public Gaze by the Mexican Question so Long

BY BURTON K. STANDISH
(Written for United Press)

Washington, May 23.—Now that Mexico is so much in the public mind and eye, some features of that revolution stricken republican, just made public her by the National Geographic Society, are of unusual interest.

In the first place, few people realize that the area of Mexico is practically as large as that of the United States between the Mississippi River and the Atlantic Coast, the Great Lakes and the Gulf of Mexico, varying in altitude from sea-level to 18,000 feet. Its climate is affected by these elevations and by range of 18 degrees of latitude. Twelve hundred miles is the distance traversed in passing south from Juarez on the northern boundary to the capital, and 900 miles more to the southeastern boundary. The Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea coast line extends for 1700 miles while the Pacific ocean and the Gulf of California touch 4,000 miles of Mexican coast.

The average density of population of Mexico approximates 20 per square mile, the most thickly populated portions, outside of the Federal district being the states of Tlaxcala and Mexico, the former being smaller in area than Delaware and of about the same density of population. The state of Mexico is nearly as large both in population and area as New Hampshire.

The form of government adopted by Mexico follows that in general of the United States, having executive, legislative and judicial divisions. Each of the 27 states is represented in two houses of congress, composed of Senators and Deputies. Congress holds two sessions each year, for limited periods. Each state has its governor and legislature and is sub-divided into districts or counties over which a "jefe politico" is placed the districts having subsidiary municipalities with magistrate, presiding officials and counsels. The so-called autocratic feature of the government may be largely due to the fact that governors hold office with the approval of the President, that jefe politicos have similar relations with the governors, and that the officers of the municipalities are generally controlled by the jefe politicos.

The church and state are independent, and Congress cannot pass laws prohibiting or establishing any religion. Of the 16,000,000 inhabitants, two-fifths are of mixed native and foreign blood, the remainder being classed under the common appellation of "foreign."

The City of Mexico, 246 miles by rail west of Vera Cruz and 2,700 feet in altitude is reached by two rail routes, climbing from the hot lands through difficult mountain passes, one of which closely follows the trail taken by Cortes in 1519, by General Winfield Scott with American troops in 1847, and over which 15 years later, the invading French troops passed.

mains that the Senate and House have been doing mighty little since the fleet was ordered to Vera Cruz. The legislators are pretty good judges of news matter and they are also perfectly cognizant that the public doesn't want to read about little congressional doings when war looms on the horizon. Therefore there has been mighty little doing up on the hill. Just as soon as the tenseness in the Mexican situation relaxed, the legislators found it convenient to break into print with some good stuff. There was action on the tolls repeal resolution in the Senate, and a step forward in the anti-trust measures at both ends of the Capitol.

Rep. Henry D. Clayton, nominated recently as a federal judge by President Wilson, enjoys the unique distinction of having turned down a United States Senatorship simply because President Wilson wanted him to. The President desired that Clayton, as head of the Judiciary committee of the House, should frame the administration's trust bills. The way has been paved for Clayton to be elected Senator in his home state, but the representative promptly withdrew from the race. He has been of tremendous assistance to the Executive in the task of framing anti-trust legislation.

Personally Clayton is a big, hearty sort of a man, with a rich southern accent and a bitter tongue in a debate. He is considered one of the best lawyers ever to sit in Congress. As a special mark of appreciation of his services, the Senate confirmed Clayton's nomination as a judge without the usual formality of referring it to a Committee, and on the same day that the President sent the formal nomination to the Senate.

Cause to Rejoice

Republicans have ample cause to rejoice over the returns of primary elections held the work. They all tell one story; the disintegration of the Progressive party and losses of the Democratic party to the Republican party. In the big industrial centers the trend toward the Republican party is very apparent.

The returns further show that the G. O. P. is springing back into first place, a prestige lost in 1912 when Theodore Roosevelt and his friends conducted a campaign against the party which advanced them into power. It is a noteworthy fact that the Republicans came back to first place, according to the primary returns, where the large factories are located. In Gary, Ind., the story is the same as in Pennsylvania, the heart of the steel industry.

Politicians of the third party have advocated the complete annihilation of the Republican party in Pennsylvania because Boise Penrose remained in politics. He has been called all of the mean terms that could be conceived of in a fertile brain. His dire destruction was forecast when the people got a chance to have their say through the direct primary. The so-called political correspondents who profess to have their hands "on the pulse of the people" readily, one and all, predicted his complete overthrow. But Senator Penrose was nominated three to one over the only candidate who opposed him and the vote cast was almost a hundred thousand larger than that of both the Democratic and Progressive parties.

There is but one reason. The people are dissatisfied with conditions under Democratic free trade. The workmen in the industrial centers have felt the effects of the new tariff law more than we of the agricultural districts have and this is their opportunity to express their opinions. And they expressed them mightily.

The returns clearly indicate that the Beveridge party is going to pieces faster than the Populist party did. Primary figures tell a story of dissolution that can not be denied. From one end of Indiana to the other, from Lake county on the north to Vandenburg in the "pocket," it is the same story. In the Lake county primary the Progressives polled by five hundred votes, less than one-eleventh of their vote in 1912. In Vandenburg county, which contains the city of Evansville, the Progressives piled up the imposing total of 186.

These cold, cruel figures do not tally with the "dope" the Indianapolis Star has been handing out of late, but the figures are true. Recently the Star, in a column article, told how strong the Beveridge party was in Lake County and predicted wonderful gains would be shown in the primary. In that county in 1912 Roosevelt received 5659 votes. In yesterday's primary in that county the Beveridge party polled but 500 votes.

The results of the primaries in

Allen, St. Joseph, Lake, Vanderburg, Vigo and Marion, the largest in the state, reveal the fact that the Beveridge party will not be a factor in the Indiana campaign this year. The Republican showing in Lake and Vanderburg has thrown a chill into the Democratic state organization.

Leaders of the Taggart-Fairbanks crowd are beginning to hear of the great discontent among Democratic farmers over workings of the tariff bill; they are beginning to hear something of the revolt among the rank and file of Democratic voters of the state because of the nomination of the party organization by Crawford Fairbanks, the big brewer, who recently stifled justice in Vigo county, and they are beginning to realize how unpopular has been their conduct of Indiana's financial affairs.

"It is perfectly plain from recent primaries that we can not rely on the Bull Moose to bring victory to our party this year," said a close advisor of one of the candidates on the Democratic state ticket today. "Their strength now is negligible. We have the hardest kind of a fight on our hands this year to carry Indiana over the Republicans. There are evidences everywhere of Republican activity and this does not bode well for the Democratic ticket."

WE'RE BACK SAYS CHAIRMAN HAYS

It's no Longer a Question of Coming for the Republicans Because they Have Already Arrived

EVERY INDICATION THAT WAY

Drift is Coming from no Particular Party or Organization—What Six Months' Poll Shows.

[Special to the Daily Republican.]

Indianapolis, Ind., May 23.—"We ain't mad at anybody." This was the exclamation of Republican State Chairman Will H. Hays as he jumped up from his desk in state headquarters today after having analyzed the reports of the results of the primaries in St. Joseph, Vanderburg, and Lake counties and later having gone over the reports of the result of six months poll in a half dozen counties of Indiana—the first to be received at headquarters.

"It's coming, just as sure as November is coming," continued Chairman Hays. "If we had made a prediction of such a result as that reported from Lake county ten days ago we would have been branded as dreamers; that's the reason we will let the primary figures speak for themselves. Our first reports, on the result of our six months poll show an astounding drift toward Republicans.

"This drift is coming from no particular party or organization—it is coming from all of them. Look at the startling slump in the Democratic vote in the Lake county primary. From every section of Indiana come reports of substantial Democrats who are disgusted with the results of the workings of the Democratic tariff bill.

"The contest in Indiana this year is not so much of a political contest as usual—this year it is simply a matter of business. In reality it is now a question of commercial self preservation. The disastrous effect of the Democratic free trade law is just beginning to be felt. We're not coming back—we're back."

Early reports on the six months poll are highly gratifying to the members of the Republican State committee. Here is the result of the poll of a precinct in a county of the eight district, that is typical of the Democratic and Progressive loss and the Republican gain:

1912 election: Democrats, 138, Progressives, 135 and Republican 40.

1914 poll: Democrats, 108 Progressives, 27 and Republican, 167.

to a great degree, causing their success.

Mrs. A. L. Aldridge of Rushville, representing the Ladies Musicale, was a member of the auditing committee. The delegates endorsed a state constitutional convention yesterday shortly before noon.

The vote succeeded a speech by Mrs. Phebe K. Bracken of Brookville on "Why Indiana Needs a New Constitution." Mrs. Bracken argued the need of the convention on account of the unjust system of taxation and the demands of the women for enfranchisement.

The speaker said in the beginning that she would talk less about suffrage and more about taxation, but her address defended woman suffrage because of the need of women as well as men protecting themselves against unjust taxation.

"Although we do not have a voice in the government of the state," she said, "we as well as the men are all governed by the rate of taxation. The present system of taxation is antiquated. It is as unjust as was the system of taxation that caused the men in the revolutionary war to use taxation as one reason for the declaration of independence.

"It is our duty to see that the men elect good men to the constitutional convention although only half the people of the state can vote, if it is granted that the women are important enough to be called people.

"Women suffer from the high taxation as much as the men, even though they don't have a chance to express themselves upon the subject. Women must suffer from the penalties of the different laws just the same as though they had a part in the government. If that isn't enough to make any sensible woman favor the enfranchisement of her sex, I don't see what would.

"All we can do is to endorse the constitutional convention and see that good men are elected to the convention."

A roll call of the counties that the morning of the counties showed that the morning session was attended by 59 from Franklin county, 39 from Fayette, 6 from Hancock, 12 from Henry, 12 from Rush, 56 from Union, 64 from Wayne and none from Shelby.

CHARLES BECKER CONVICTED AGAIN

Former New York Police Lieutenant Found Guilty Second Time on First Degree Murder.

A SHORT STAY IS GRANTED

STILL HOPEFUL.

(By United Press.)

New York, May 23.—Charles Becker twice convicted of procuring the murder of Herman Rosenthal today refused to wait for the sentence of death to come Friday and for the appeal to the higher court.

Even before the arrival of counsel today he was hard at work looking over the transcript of testimony seeking some point yet overlooked on which to hang the argument in his battle. Becker believes his case would have been better if he had taken the witness stand.

New York, May 23.—Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, last night for the second time was found guilty of first degree murder for his part in the Rosenthal killing. Only a pardon or interference again by the Court of Appeals can save him from following to the electric chair the four gunmen who shot Herman Rosenthal, a gambler, early on the morning of July 16, 1912. The jury decided that the gunmen were Becker's agents.

One ballot decided Becker's fate. It was taken almost immediately after the jurors returned from luncheon at an uptown hotel, where they went as soon as Supreme Court Justice Samuel Seabury finished his charge. It was unanimous for conviction.

Becker's counsel announced that he would appeal and gained a week's stay for the preparation of his future campaign.

IS PRETTY SOFT FOR WESTFIELD

Runs Away With Track Meet at Shelbyville Scoring a Total of Fifty-Six Points.

COLORED BOYS ARE STARS

Rushville Team Never Had Show and Best Could do Was Capture Third Place Three Times.

Westfield high school won the track and field meet of the Central Indiana high school league yesterday at Shelbyville, making a total of 56 points out of a total of 104. Shelbyville was second with 21 points, Greenwood third with 17 points, Greenfield fourth with 9 points and Rushville last with only three points.

Westfield was an easy winner and carried off most of the medals, banners and trophies. The Westfield high school also won the relay race, which was a separate event on the program. The individual stars of the meet were Linsey and Charles Armstrong, colored, of the Westfield team. The two colored boys won event after event for their school and were easily the stars of the meet.

Rushville never expected to win the meet and the showing was all that was expected. James Shannahan won two thirds for Rushville and Stacy Hinkle finished third in the mile run, giving the local school a total of three points. Shannahan finished third in the 220 yard dash, putting on a sensational finish but he could not edge the Armstrong brothers out for first and second places. Shannahan also won third place in the 440 yard dash. The state record of 24 seconds for the 220 yard dash was equaled but there were no records broken at the meet. The summary is as follows:

High Jump—Linsey Armstrong, Westfield; Fred Woodcock, Greenwood; Blue, Greenfield; 5 feet 3 inches.

100-Yard Dash—L. Armstrong, Westfield; Clark, Shelbyville; Bruner, Greenfield; 11 seconds.

Half-mile Run—Dale Spears, Greenwood; Blue, Greenfield; Carr, Westfield; 2 minutes 14½ seconds.

220-Yard Dash—Charles Armstrong, Westfield; L. Armstrong, Westfield; James Shannahan, Rushville; 24 seconds. (This time equals the state record made this year.)

Discus Throw—L. Armstrong, Westfield; Blue, Greenfield; Clark, Shelbyville; 97 feet 4 inches.

220-Yard Hurdle—L. Armstrong, Westfield; Conrad Gunn, Westfield; Ralph Bailey, Greenfield; 18½ seconds.

Shot Put—Robert Markley, Shelbyville; Clark, Shelbyville; Blue, Greenfield; 37 feet 9 inches.

220 Yard Hurdle—L. Armstrong, Westfield; Gunn, Westfield; Clark, Shelbyville; 27 3-5 seconds.

440-Yard Dash—Charles Armstrong, Westfield; Blue, Greenfield; Shannahan, Rushville; 56 seconds.

Broad Jump—L. Armstrong, Westfield; Verlon Rockafellow, Shelbyville; Oscar Christian, Greenwood; 19 feet 6¾ inches.

Mile Run—Artie Davis, Westfield; Walter Haehl, Shelbyville; Stacy Hinkle, Rushville; 5 minutes 9 4-19 seconds.

Pole Vault—Leland Wheatcraft, Greenwood, 9 feet and 11 inches;

COLLEGES ARE RAISING MONEY

Several Indiana Institutions are After New Gymnasiums Despite Attacks of Some

MANY PROPOSED BUILDINGS

Opposition Claims Undue Prominence is Given Athletics and not Enough To Education.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, May 23.—Though several Indiana educators have attacked colleges and schools in Indiana, declaring undue prominence is given athletics, the colleges are busy raising money for investment in gymnasiums. H. G. Brown, superintendent of the Lebanon schools, in an address before the Northern Indiana Teachers' Assn. recently declared "scholarship has been sacrificed to athletics to the detriment of education. The state should foster the mental resources of the people as well as the physical strength."

The announcement yesterday from Wabash college that a gymnasium fund with a goal fixed at $75,000 was about to be started, came closely after similar announcements from other colleges. Earlham college wants $50,000 for a gymnasium, and DePauw promises that "before another basketball season we will have a gymnasium." Hanover makes the brag that few colleges in the state have a better gym. Arthur Hotchkiss in charge of athletics there writes.

"Franklin has the only gymnasium of the colleges in the state that is as good or better than ours. The building here is six years old, well arranged and equipped, and has one of the fastest basketball floors, being enclosed on three sides."

At Earlham the class of 1914 has proposed to the board of trustees to dedicate its annual the Sargasso, to the proposed gymnasium, and make the profits from it a class gift to the fund. Several wealthy people are expected to make substantial gifts. One plan proposed is that each one of the one thousand members of the alumni association pledge to give $10 a year for five years, making the $50,000.

ODDS FAVORED DE PAUW TO WIN

Entered Annual I. C. A. L. Track Meet Slight Favorite Over Earlham and Wabash.

ROSE POLY NOT FIGURED

According to Dope, Old Gold and Black Should Walk Away With Meet

(By United Press.)

Crawfordsville, Ind., May 23.—When the I. C. A. L. meet began here this afternoon DePauw was a slight favorite, with Earlham a close second and Wabash trailing a bit behind them in the dope. A line on these three teams has been obtained through contests Earlham and DePauw have had with Rose. DePauw beat Rose 103 to 23, while Earlham won from Rose by 95 to 30 last Saturday. This would give DePauw a slight advantage which is nearly offset by the fact that Earlham's records were better than those made by DePauw. DePauw has beaten Wabash in track this year.

Rose appears to be entirely out of the running, while Franklin has the best record in recent years, having won the I. C. A. L. ever since the marvelous Conrad ran and jumped for the Quakers. Before the day Turk for Rose captured all the meets. Rose pinned all its faith on Turk, and when that man left went into a slump from which it never has recovered.

On the other hand, Earlham has maintained a well balanced team since Conrad left, and has continued to win. DePauw is a rather recent arrival in track and field, and this is the first year it has threatened to win the I. C. A. L. Wabash always has been Earlham's chief opponent since the days of Turk-Rose victories. The Little Giants (Wabash) won the meet last year at Richmond with Earlham second.

REVIVAL TO START.

(By United Press.)

Kokomo, Ind., May 23.—This city is believed to be on the eve of a revival similar to those that have deeply affected Muncie, Marion and Logansport. The Rev. Mr. Lyons, evangelist, will begin here tomorrow a six-week series of meetings in a big tabernacle erected on the site where the school building recently burned. If this revival equals the other three Lyons revivals, there will be many conversions, for it is estimated there were approximately 3,000 conversions each for the three cities named. The immense tabernacle was brought here from Logansport on four flat cars.

TRIMMINGS GRADUALLY DESERTING BODICE FOR SKIRT.

If you would be quite up to the moment, trim your skirt but leave the upper part of your frock severely plain, save, perhaps, for a flaring collar of white batiste or organdy and just the merest suggestion of a frill at each wrist, or a novelty button or two.

The small, flaring coats, too, are plain save for a piping of satin or a rather decorative collar, which, of course, is accompanied by another one of organdy or batiste. There is something so fresh and crisp about these separate collars that none of us can afford to do without one. The suit shown in 8203-8212 is an excellent model for linen, one of the heavy cottons or serges; here a cream-colored novelty cotton sponge is used for the coat and a plain sponge, the same shade for the skirt. Both are piped with black satin. To copy this suit in size 36, 1½ yards of 42-inch material will be needed for the coat (8203) and 3½ yards of the same width for the skirt (8212).

A happy combination of flowered chiffon and taffetas for afternoons is shown in Number 8114; the underskirt is plain white taffeta, a soft quality, and the over drapery is of flowered chiffon. A quaint, old-fashioned looking ruching is the only trimming aside from large black velvet buttons and the velvet sash.

This dress may be copied in size 36 with 4½ yards of 36-inch material. Number 8203, sizes 34 to 42. Number 8212, sizes 22 to 30. Number 8114, sizes 34 to 42. Each pattern 15 cents.

To obtain either pattern illustrated fill out this coupon and enclose 15 cents in stamps or coin. Be sure to state number of pattern and size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust. Address Pattern Department, care of this paper.

AIRSHIPS HAD GREAT EFFECT

When They Flew Over Vera Cruz After Occupation by U. S. Forces, Sharp-Shooting Ceased at Once.

NATIVES FEARED THE BOMBS

Not Long After Their Arrival Until Birdmen Had Placed in Admirals Hands Map of Country.

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD.

(By U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Vera Cruz, Mexico, May 15.—(By Mail to New York)—Here's a school room scene, twenty-five years from now:

Teacher—Why is April 25, 1914, famous in American history?

Up goes the hand of every boy, waving wildly.

Teacher—Willie you may answer.

Willie—It's the day on which an aeroplane was first used in an American war.

Sammy, unable to keep silent—I know more about it than that. It happened at Vera Cruz Mexico, and it almost scared the Mexicans to death. Even the cows and horses ran away from it and the people thought it was a terrible animal and hid in their houses.

Jimmy, interrupting—I know who flew it. His name was Pat Bollinger.

Teacher—No! Lt. Patrick N. L. Bollinger, of Charleston, South Carolina—Not Pat.

Willie—That's it. And before he ever flew in an aeroplane, he commanded a submarine and once made a target record with a 12 inch gun from the Battleship South Carolina. He had light eyes and he came from one of the best families in the South and he could dance as well as he could fly and all his friends called him Pat and he never got married because so many girls liked him that he didn't know which one to propose to.

Teacher—Willie!

Sammy—There were two men in the aeroplane. Bollinger flew it but Dick Saufley rode beside him and made a chart of all the territory around eVra Cruz showing where bridges were burned, tracks torn up and where some Mexican soldiers that they flew over were throwing up entrenchments.

Teacher—His name wasn't Dick. His title was Lt. Richard C. Saufley, of Kentucky.

It is a notable fact that the first American soldier to use the aeroplane in real warfare were southerners. Class adjourned.

Those schoolboys will have been talking of an event that delighted American refugees in Vera Cruz. The first flight of the navy aeroplane over Vera Cruz followed, by only two hours, the arrival of the machine on the Battleship Mississippi. Lt. Commander Henry C. Mustin, of the Pensacola (Florida) navy aviation station, put his mechanics to work on two Curtis hydroplanes in the hangar on the deck of the battleship and by the time the fleet arrived off Vera Cruz the flying machines were ready for immediate use. They were lowered over the side of the ship by cranes and they scuttled across the harbor to the beach under their own power.

Within a short time Bollinger and Saufley were in the air above the ships and circling over the town. The aeroplane had a tremendous effect on the natives of Vera Cruz. Sharpshooting from houses, which had occurred every evening since the occupation ceased immediately, as the rumor went abroad among the Mexicans that the aviators would drop a bomb on any house from which sharpshooting occurred. In the evening the same two aviators made excursions far out into the country returning with maps which indicated to Admiral Fletcher the exact position of the enemy, showing the condition of the narrow and broad gauge railroad tracks and bridges.

Admiral Fletcher highly complimented the two aviators for the work and ordered the preparation of maps from the neat charts which Saufley had drawn in the air. Saufley's charts will probably find a place in one of the army or navy collections in the Washington Museum.

Money Orders May be Collected in Any Office After July 1.

Postmasters have been advised by the department at Washington, D. C., that beginning July 1 postal money orders will be payable at any office in the country if presented for payment within thirty days following the date of issue. Heretofore a money order has been payable at the office of issue only, or at the office on which it is drawn. One effect of the new order will be that no duplicate money orders in case of loss of the original will be issued until after the thirty-day period has expired, unless a bond is filed. This is to prevent fraud in the presentation of a lost order.

WATER MAINS TO BE CLEANED NEXT WEEK

Rust and Sediment Makes it Necessary to do This Annual Task—

Water Will Appear Dirty.

HYDRANTS WILL BE OPENED

Starting next week the people of Rushville need not be surprised to find the city water "riled up" and with a rusty color, as Superintendent Mahin announces that he will start cleaning the mains. Every day next week in some section of the city the water will be drained from the mains. Sediment and rust in the mains make it necessary that they be cleaned and it was thought best to do the work at this time of the year.

All the hydrants in the city will be opened at some time next week and in this way all the mains will be freed of the rust. While it makes the water appear dirty at the time it is probably a good thing for the consumers.

BIG MEETING TO BE AT FRANKFORT

National Conference of Dunkards Will Convene Near There May 30 And Continue Week

EXPECT 15,000 TO ATTEND

Tents Will be Used and Affair Will Resemble Monster Circus—Laws to be Changed.

(By United Press.)

Frankfort, Ind., May 23.—Clinton county Dunkards are busy just now making arrangements for the annual of the United States, the conference National conference of the Dunkards to be held in this county, just north of this city, on May 30, and June 1, 2 and 3. It is estimated that from ten to fifteen thousand Dunkards from almost every state in the Union, will be in attendance. The National meeting last year was held at Roanoke, West Virginia.

The meeting is to be held on the Joseph Metzger farm, located three miles south of Rossville and six miles north of this city, and some twenty acres have been set apart for the use of the Dunkards. Seven acres are to be used exclusively for horse drawn vehicles. In this tract workmen are now engaged in placing 700 posts to be used for hitching purposes.

Two large tents are to be used, one for a dining hall and the other for the meetings. The dining tent will have twenty-seven long tables and will be capable of seating 700 persons at one time. The tent in which the religious services will be held will be large enough to accommodate from four to five thousand people. This tent will resemble a big circus tent, minus the side curtains. The tents are already on the ground having been shipped from Roanoke for use here.

The committee on arrangements are preparing to serve ten meals during the conference, the menu to consist of beef, bread and butter, pickles, coffee with cream and sugar. Nine head of steers will be slaughtered and 400 pounds of butter will be used as will 4,000 loaves of bread. The expenses of the annual conference are borne by the congregation of the Indiana churches.

The committee on arrangements for the national conference is composed of Elder David Landis of Camden, Ind., Amos Flora, of Brighurst, G. H. Gascho, of Rossville and Joseph S. Metzger of Rossville. Elder Landis is chairman of the committee.

The national meeting was held in this county about fifteen years ago and at that time the meeting attracted from six to eight thousand Dunkards besides thousands of visitors from all parts of the state. This year the attendance is expected to be almost twice as large. Many of the most prominent men of the church will attend and at the business sessions new laws will be made.

+Waiting and Mounting Up" is the title of the sermon to be preached Sunday morning at the First Baptist church by the pastor, the Rev. S. G. Huntington. There will be no evening service but all other services will be held at the regular hours.

(By United Press.)

New York, May 23.—Judge Lindsay of Denver today gave up any further attempt to see the Rockefellers in regard to the Colorado strike situation. The Denver judge was receptive for an invitation to see Col. Roosevelt at Oyster Bay today, but the bid was not forthcoming and Lindsay announced he would return to Denver late today or tomorrow.

Lindsay is accompanied by his wife and the families of several Colorado strikers who came prepared to lay before John D. Rockefeller, Jr., the true conditions. A telegraph announcement in Washington, however, warned him that none of the Rockefellers would see him.

Rushville Tot Almost Brings Out The Richmond Fire Department

Little Judith Mauzy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Mauzy, has a habit of pulling four numbers on the dial of the automatic telephone, pushing the button and then talking to whoever chances to answer. There is an automatic system in Richmond, and while visiting there, the little girl did the same thing.

It happened one day that she called the fire department. The fireman who answered the telephone heard an excited child's voice at the other end of the line. He imagined all sorts of dire calamities. Of course, he presumed there was a fire and the child was unable to tell about it.

The horses were hitched and the firemen prepared for a run. They have a system at the station whereby it is possible to call central and learn with whom they were talking. This was done and the firemen promptly called the home where Mrs. Mauzy and her daughter were visiting. An explanation followed. It's not a very good ending, but it is rumored that the fireman actually lost all his sense of humor and got angry. Anyhow they didn't go to the fire.

PLAY FEATURES THE RECEPTION

Juniors Mark Annual Event for Seniors With New Departure and Win Many Compliments.

HELD IN GRAHAM SCHOOL GYM

Decorations Add to Attractiveness of Reception—Playlet is Decided Success.

A general air of secrecy which has pervaded the preparation for the annual reception of the junior class of the high school to the seniors ceased to be a matter for mysterious conferences last night when the juniors sprung their surprise by presenting to their guests William Dean Howells' clever little skit, "The Mousetrap," in the gymnasium at the Graham high school building.

The reception was so different, and withal so original and unique, that it was voted the best one ever given here. The comedy was so well played and the lines were so replete with artifice and salient humor that the hundred or more persons present, including the faculty and members of the two classes, were kept in almost continual uproar of laughter.

The reception marked a new departure in commencement festivities. Heretofore the reception has been held in a home of a member of the junior class, but the class agreed this year that the gymnasium should be given a trial, and there is no one today to admit but that it was an unqualified success.

The junior class members have been striving by the use of all the ingenuity at their command and at the command of the class sponsors, Miss Kate Dennis and L. B. Smelser, members of the faculty, to outdo the junior reception last year.

The gymnasium was converted into a veritable forest. Boughs from far and wide were gathered and festooned about the walls and over the ceiling so that all of the appearance of barrenness was taken from the room. A color scheme of green and yellow was carried out with wonderful effect. Fifty electric lanterns, radiating a mellow glow of green and yellow, were interlaced among the foliage. Patches of yellow flowers here and there added to the attractiveness of the decorations.

Rugs covered the bleachers of the gymnasium and another barren spot was removed. Palms on pedestals were used to excellent advantage and large comfortable rockers and roomy benches smothered in pillows added to the cozy atmosphere of the "gym."

It would be unfair to say that any member of the cast of "The Mousetrap" shone any more brilliantly than the other, because they were all equally good and their acting made the one-act comedy the best home-talent production here in years. True, it was not pretentious, but it required some skill and a good bit of cleverness to carry off the parts as they were done.

Miss Marion Scholl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Scholl, as Mrs. Somers, fiancee of Willie Campbell (Merle Maupin) acted what might be termed the leading role with wonderful grace and naturalness. Merle Maupin was also very fine. The whole performance moved off with an ease that marks only professional productions.

Mrs. Somers is an anti-suffragette. She admits it. Her fiance calls, as misfortune would have it, as she is reading his speech made against woman suffrage before a legislative body. His remarks about the lack of courage in women about her to an-

LAST DELEGATES RETURN TODAY

Rush County Club Women Glad That They Won 1915 Meeting of Sixth District Federation.

BIG TASK IN FRONT OF THEM

Delegates in Closing Day's Convention Endorse State Constitutional Convention.

The last of the Rush county delegates to the annual meeting of the Sixth District Federation of Women's Clubs arrived home today delighted with the fact that they had won the 1915 convention for this city.

They realize they had a big task in front of them because there were three hundred women at Richmond yesterday and there will be equally as many here. It has been the custom for not many to attend the first day's meeting, but because of the central location of Rushville, it is believed that the attendance here will be almost as large the first day as the last.

There was some indication that the federation might take some action on the suggestion that the plan be changed; that each delegate pay for her own entertainment rather than be entertained by the women of the city, but the matter did not come up for consideration. There was also a movement afoot to advocate a more simplified dress for the functions attending the meeting, but this was not brought before the convention.

Organization of county federations must be the aim for which the city federations of each county must work, according to Mrs. Virginia Meredith, of Cambridge City, well known over the state and a member of half the clubs of Wayne county.

She expressed this opinion yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Meredith deplored the failure of clubs in Cambridge City, Milton, Dublin and Hagerstown to answer letters of Miss Edna Johnson, of Richmond, who was in charge of the formation of a county federation and who called a session of delegates from every unfederated club in the county. Not a delegate was sent and not a club answered the letter, Miss Johnson said.

It was when Miss Johnson, as county chairman, spoke of this apparent lack of interest by the unfederated clubs in the western part of the county that Mrs. Meredith called attention to the methods she believed wrong in organizing the county federation.

"Club women have failed for twenty-five years in this, and they will continue to fail for the next twenty-five years," Mrs. Meredith declared.

"Not until they use the right methods of federating, will they succeed. As far as speaking of 'county' and 'city' clubs in the Sixth district is concerned, according to statistical figures, Richmond is the only place where there can be a city federation because towns under 6,000 are 'country.' I am sorry that the country clubs in the western part of the county were so unbusinesslike as to fail to answer Miss Johnson's letter."

In her report, Miss Johnson confined her talk to what was done by the clubs of Richmond, this city being the only one where the federation exists.

Instead of giving the specific work of each club, Miss Johnson generalized and told of the work of the federation. She gave full credit to the Richmond Commercial club for taking hold of the movements started by clubs belonging to the federation and

The Orphans Of Merchandise

The public likes to know the percentage of the things for which it is asked to spend its good money.

A name made familiar through advertising carries with it a certain pedigree. It breathes respectability and responsibility.

Dealers find that they are moving with the popular current when they display goods of known make and name.

When those goods have been made known through the columns of their home newspaper and dealers know they are carrying wares that have been introduced to their customers, and that are desired by their customers.

The logic of good merchandising is to give the people what they want.

would you care to be tried before a jury whose minds were on other affairs and who would not listen to your testimony? The chances are you would want men who would give their whole attention to your case. You may never be tried for murder but the same proposition applies to every business transaction you make. When you want to buy an article go to the man that specializes that article. Now for instance if you need a vehicle of any kind—that is where I ring in. That is why I can give you better vehicle values, better styles and better service. My whole time and attention is centered on one thing. Every day in the year, Mr. Vehicle Buyer, I am working to obtain better prices and better style for you to make your selections from. Place your business with a man who creates new styles and is working at the business every day to give you satisfaction. I want your vehicle business and don't you think it is a better proposition to place it with me than with some one that is selling buggies as a side issue?

ger. Thinking to test her courage and prove his own contentions, Campbell suggests that he believes he may have heard a mouse. Mrs. Somers, mounting a chair as hastily as possible, becomes panicky.

In this position three friends find her when they come to call. Jane, the maid, Miss Marion Sparks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Sparks, presents the callers' cards, but she, too, loses all of her womanly courage and takes refuge in a chair when a mouse is mentioned. The callers finally force their way in. Gladys Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wallace, took the part of Mrs. Miller; Gladys Titsworth, daughter of John Titsworth, the part of Mrs. Curwen, and Madelon Cooning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cooning, the part of Mrs. Bemis. The explanation that a mouse is loose in the room causes them all to leap to chairs and tables. In the next instant, Mrs. Roberts, sister of Campbell, (Miss Anna Amos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Amos,) arrives. She too, follows suit in mounting a chair.

In this funny situation, then, brilliant repartee ensues much to the amusement of the guests. Campbell tries to reassure the courageous suffragettes. He explains there is no mouse in the room. All attempts of his to flee are frustrated. While discussing a reception, the women agree on an organized movement to get out of the room. They carry out the plans all screaming at once and rush for the door. The hostess, in her agony, forgot to leave her pedestal. She berates Campbell for what she terms an ungentlemanly trick when he confesses the subterfuge to test her boasted courage. He pleads with her to leave the chair because there is no mouse. She demures; he insists. He says that were he her fiance, he would take her in his arms and bear her from the room, but since she has called it off, there is nothing to do but depart. But she will not allow it. She speaks in terms as if she were he and he were she. She admits that if she were the courageous man he is, she would use force. Then the curtain dropped.

Miss Marion Scholl, Miss Madelon Cooning, Miss Gladys Wallace, Miss Ramona Embank, Floyd French and Merle Maupin were the class reception committee. Miss Cooning is the class president; Freda Schatz, the treasurer and Miss Anna Amos the secretary. The juniors who were in charge of the dining room were Miss Adeline West, Miss Fern Finley and Miss Nellie Drake, Dorothy Sparks, Elizabeth Tevis, Lora Spurrier, Louise Hogsett, Margaret Ball and Lois Reeves served.

The excess of imports over exports in April was $10,271,872 and the excess of exports over imports in the ten months' period is $174,371,465.

Gold imports during the month totaled $3,462,174, compared with $4,013,537 in April, 1913 while gold exports were but $447,386, against $1,110,168 in April last year.

In closing the class prophecy was given. The company reappeared on the stage and graphophone was pulled to the center of the stage. The business of placing on a record and winding the thing was carried out and then came the usual sputtering attending the start of the instrument. From behind the scenes L. B. Smelser read the prophecy, intimating a graphophone perfectly.

The players were coached by Mr. Smelser and Miss Dennis was in charge of the other arrangements for the function. Rehearsal was started for the play only two weeks ago.

PEACE IN MEXICO IN 40 DAYS

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 23.—Great effort was made by the administration today to bring Carranza into line of mediation. This subject was discussed in a long conference between Secretary Bryan, John Lind and Judge Douglas, Carranza's legal representatives here. The conferees were closeted in Bryan's private office from 11 o'clock until nearly noon. Bryan was more optimistic today than at any time since the mediation began. A man who is in Bryan's complete confidence stated there "will be peace in Mexico inside of forty days."

OFFICIALS WILL NOT TALK

Close up After Wave of Criticism Over Espousal of Rebels.

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 23.—Sensational stories of an impending collapse of the Huerta administration in Mexico City with an uprising against the Dictator circulated here today. No official information can be had. But the direct order of the president, all officials who formerly gave news are now silent. The wave of criticism that followed the almost open espousal of the Constitutional cause is admittedly the reason.

MUCH LIKE THE UNITED STATES

Government of Mexico Follows Much Same Lines as Ours, Having Two Houses of Congress.

THE CHURCH IS INDEPENDENT

Congress is Jealous of Being Shunned out of Public Gaze by the Mexican Question so Long

BY BURTON K. STANDISH
(Written for United Press)

Washington, May 23.—Now that Mexico is so much in the public mind and eye, some features of that revolution stricken republic, just made public her by the National Geographic Society, are of unusual interest.

In the first place, few people realize that the area of Mexico is practically as large as that of the United States between the Mississippi River and the Atlantic Coast, the Great Lakes and the Gulf of Mexico, varying in altitude from sea-level to 18,000 feet. Its climate is affected by these elevations and by range of 18 degrees of latitude. Twelve hundred miles is the distance traversed in passing south from Juarez on the northern boundary to the capital, and 900 miles more to the southeastern boundary. The Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea coast line extends for 1700 miles while the Pacific ocean and the Gulf of California touch 4,000 miles of Mexican coast.

The average density of population of Mexico approximates 20 per square mile, the most thickly populated portions, outside of the Federal district being the states of Tlaxcala and Mexico, the former being smaller in area than Delaware and of about the same density of population. The state of Mexico is nearly as large both in population and area as New Hampshire.

The form of government adopted by Mexico follows that in general of the United States, having executive, legislative and judicial divisions. Each of the 27 states is represented in two houses of congress, composed of Senators and Deputies. Congress holds two sessions each year, for limited periods. Each state has its governor and legislature and is sub-divided into districts or counties over which a "jefe político" is placed the districts having subsidiary municipalities with magistrate, presiding officials and councils. The so-called autocratic feature of the government may be largely due to the fact that governors hold office with the approval of the President, that jefes políticos have similar relations with the governors, and that the officers of the municipalities are generally controlled by the jefes políticos.

The church and state are independent, and Congress cannot pass laws prohibiting or establishing any religion. Of the 16,000,000 inhabitants, two-fifths are of mixed native and foreign blood, the remainder being classed under the common appellation of "foreign."

The City of Mexico, 246 miles by rail west of Vera Cruz and 2,700 feet in altitude is reached by two rail routes, climbing from the hot lands through difficult mountain passes, one of which closely follows the trail taken by Cortes in 1519, by General Winfield Scott with American troops in 1847, and over which 15 years later, the invading French troops passed.

mains that the Senate and House have been doing mighty little since the fleet was ordered to Vera Cruz. The legislators are pretty good judges of news matter and they are also perfectly cognizant that the public doesn't want to read about little congressional doings when war looms on the horizon. Therefore there has been mighty little doing up on the hill. Just as soon as the tenseness in the Mexican situation relaxed, the legislators found it convenient to break into print with some good stuff. There was action on the tolls repeal resolution in the Senate, and a step forward in the anti-trust measures—at both ends of the Capitol.

Rep. Henry D. Clayton, nominated recently as a federal judge by President Wilson, enjoys the unique distinction of having turned down a United States Senatorship simply because President Wilson wanted him to. The President desired that Clayton, as head of the Judiciary committee of the House, should frame the administration's trust bills. The way has been paved for Clayton to be elected Senator in his home state, but the representative promptly withdrew from the race. He has been of tremendous assistance to the Executive in the task of framing anti-trust legislation.

Personally Clayton is a big, hearty sort of a man, with a rich southern accent and a bitter tongue in a debate. He is considered one of the best lawyers ever to sit in Congress. As a special mark of appreciation of his services, the Senate confirmed Clayton's nomination as a judge without the usual formality of referring it to a Committee, and on the same day that the President sent the formal nomination to the Senate.

Cause to Rejoice

Republicans have ample cause to rejoice over the returns of primary elections held the work. They all tell one story; the disintegration of the Progressive party and losses of the Democratic party to the Republican party. In the big industrial centers the trend toward the Republican party is very apparent.

The returns further show that the G. O. P. is springing back into first place, a prestige lost in 1912 when Theodore Roosevelt and his friends conducted a campaign against the party which advanced them into power. It is a noteworthy fact that the Republicans came back to first place, according to the primary returns, where the large factories are located. In Gary, Ind., the story is the same as in Pennsylvania, the heart of the steel industry.

Politicians of the third party have advocated the complete annihilation of the Republican party in Pennsylvania because Boise Penrose remained in politics. He has been called all of the mean terms that could be conceived of in a fertile brain. His dire destruction was forecast when the people got a chance to have their say through the direct primary. The so-called political correspondents who profess to have their hands "on the pulse of the people" readily, one and all, predicted his complete overthrow. But Senator Penrose was nominated three to one over the only candidate who opposed him and the vote cast was almost a hundred thousand larger than that of both the Democratic and Progressive parties.

There is but one reason. The people are dissatisfied with conditions under Democratic free trade. The workmen in the industrial centers have felt the effects of the new tariff law more than we of the agricultural districts have and this is their opportunity to express their opinions. And they expressed them mightily.

The returns clearly indicate that the Beveridge party is going to pieces faster than the Populist party did. Primary figures tell a story of dissolution that can not be denied. From one end of Indiana to the other, from Lake county on the north to Vanderburg in the "pocket," it is the same story. In the Lake county primary the Progressives polled by five hundred votes, less than one-eleventh of their vote in 1912. In Vanderburg county, which contains the city of Evansville, the Progressives piled up the imposing total of 186.

These cold, cruel figures do not tally with the "dope" the Indianapolis Star has been handing out of late, but the figures are true. Recently the Star, in a column article, told how strong the Beveridge party was in Lake County and predicted wonderful gains would be shown in the primary. In that county in 1912 Roosevelt received 5659 votes. In yesterday's primary in that county the Beveridge party polled but 500 votes.

The results of the primaries in

Allen, St. Joseph, Lake, Vanderburg, Vigo and Marion, the largest in the state, reveal the fact that the Beveridge party will not be a factor in the Indiana campaign this year. The Republican showing in Lake and Vanderburg has thrown a chill into the Democratic state organization. Leaders of the Taggart-Fairbanks crowd are beginning to hear of the great discontent among Democratic farmers over workings of the tariff bill; they are beginning to hear something of the revolt among the rank and file of Democratic voters of the state because of the nomination of the party organization by Crawford Fairbanks, the big brewer, who recently stifled justice in Vigo county, and they are beginning to realize how unpopular has been their conduct of Indiana's financial affairs.

"It is perfectly plain from recent primaries that we can not rely on the Bull Moose to bring victory to our banner this year," said a close advisor of one of the candidates on the Democratic state ticket today. "Their strength now is negligible. We have the hardest kind of a fight on our hands this year to carry Indiana over the Republicans. There are evidences everywhere of Republican activity and this does not bode well for the Democratic ticket."

Huerta says he will hold on to the end. He admits, then, that there must be, perchance, even an end for him.

WE'RE BACK SAYS CHAIRMAN HAYS

It's no Longer a Question of Coming for the Republicans Because they

Have Already Arrived

EVERY INDICATION THAT WAY

Drift is Coming from no Particular Party or Organization—What Six Months' Poll Shows.

[Special to the Daily Republican.]
Indianapolis, Ind., May 23.—"We ain't mad at anybody." This was the exclamation of Republican State Chairman Will H. Hays as he jumped up from his desk in state headquarters today after having analyzed the reports of the results of the primaries in St. Joseph, Vanderburg, and Lake counties and later having gone over the reports of the result of six months poll in a half dozen counties of Indiana—the first to be received at headquarters.

"It's coming, just as sure as November is coming," confided Chairman Hays. "If we had made a prediction of such a result as that reported from Lake county ten days ago we would have been branded as dreamers; that's the reason we will let the primary figures speak for themselves. Our first reports, on the result of our six months poll show an astounding drift toward Republicans.

"This drift is coming from no particular party or organization—it is coming from all of them. Look at the startling slump in the Democratic vote in the Lake county primary. From every section of Indiana come reports of substantial Democrats who are disgusted with the results of the workings of the Democratic tariff bill.

"The contest in Indiana this year is not so much of a political contest as usual—this year it is simply a matter of business. In reality it is now a question of commercial self preservation. The disastrous effect of the Democratic free trade law is just beginning to be felt. We're not coming back—we're back."

Early reports on the six months poll are highly gratifying to the members of the Republican State committee. Here is the result of the poll of a precinct in a county of the eight district, that is typical of the Democratic and Progressive loss and the Republican gain:

1912 election: Democrats, 138;

Progressives, 135 and Republican 40.

1914 poll: Democrats, 108 Progressives, 27 and Republican, 167.

to a great degree, causing their success.

Mrs. A. L. Aldridge of Rushville, representing the Ladies Musicale, was a member of the auditing committee. The delegates endorsed a state constitutional convention yesterday shortly before noon.

The speaker succeeded a speech by Mrs. Phoebe K. Bracken of Brookville on "Why Indiana Needs a New Constitution." Mrs. Bracken argued the need of the convention on account of the unjust system of taxation and the demands of the women for enfranchisement.

The speaker said in the beginning that she would talk less about suffrage and more about taxation, but her address defended woman suffrage because of the need of women as well as men protecting themselves against unjust taxation.

"Although we do not have a voice in the government of the state," she said, "we as well as the men are all governed by the rate of taxation. The present system of taxation is antiquated. It is as unjust as was the system of taxation that caused the men in the revolutionary war to use taxation as one reason for the declaration of independence.

"It is our duty to see that the men elect good men to the constitutional convention although only half the people of the state can vote, if it is granted that the women are important enough to be called people.

"Women suffer from the high taxation as much as the men, even though they don't have a chance to express themselves upon the subject. Women must suffer from the penalties of the different laws just the same as though they had a part in the government. If that isn't enough to make any sensible woman favor the enfranchisement of her sex, I don't see what world.

"All we can do is to endorse the constitutional convention and see that good men are elected to the convention."

A roll call of the counties that the morning of the counties showed that the morning session was attended by 59 from Franklin county, 39 from Fayette, 6 from Hancock, 12 from Henry, 12 from Rush, 56 from Union, 64 from Wayne and none from Shelby.

CHARLES BECKER CONVICTED AGAIN

Former New York Police Lieutenant Found Guilty Second Time on First Degree Murder:

A SHORT STAY IS GRANTED

STILL HOPEFUL.

(By United Press.)

New York, May 23.—Charles Becker twice convicted of procuring the murder of Herman Rosenthal today refused to wait for the sentence of death to come Friday and for the appeal to the higher court.

Even before the arrival of counsel today he was hard at work looking over the transcript of testimony seeking some point yet overlooked on which to hang the argument in his battle. Becker believes his case would have been better if he had taken the witness stand.

New York, May 23.—Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, last night for the second time was found guilty of first degree murder for his part in the Rosenthal killing. Only a pardon or interference again by the Court of Appeals can save him from following to the electric chair the four gunmen who shot Herman Rosenthal, a gambler, early on the morning of July 16, 1912. The jury decided that the gunmen were Becker's agents.

One ballot decided Becker's fate. It was taken almost immediately after the jurors returned from luncheon at an uptown hotel, where they went as soon as Supreme Court Justice Samuel Seabury finished his charge. It was unanimous for conviction.

Becker's counsel announced that he would appeal and gained a week's stay for the preparation of his future campaign.

IS PRETTY SOFT FOR WESTFIELD

Runs Away With Track Meet at Shelbyville Scoring a Total of Fifty-Six Points.

COLORED BOYS ARE STARS

Rushville Team Never Had Show and Best Could do Was Capture Third Place Three Times.

Westfield high school won the track and field meet of the Central Indiana high school league yesterday at Shelbyville, making a total of 56 points out of a total of 104. Shelbyville was second with 21 points, Greenwood third with 17 points, Greenfield fourth with 9 points and Rushville last with only three points.

Westfield was an easy winner and carried off most of the medals, banners and trophies. The Westfield high school also won the relay race, which was a separate event on the program. The individual stars of the meet were Linsey and Charles Armstrong, colored, of the Westfield team. The two colored boys won event after event for their school and were easily the stars of the meet.

Rushville never expected to win the meet and the showing was all that was expected. James Shannahan won two thirds for Rushville and Stacy Hinkle finished third in the mile run, giving the local school a total of three points. Shannahan finished third in the 220 yard dash, putting on a sensational finish but he could not edge the Armstrong brothers out for first and second places. Shannahan also won third place in the 440 yard dash. The state record of 24 seconds for the 220 yard dash was equaled but there were no records broken at the meet. The summary is as follows:

High Jump—Linsey Armstrong, Westfield; Fred Woodcock, Greenwood; Blue, Greenfield; 5 feet 3 inches.

100-Yard Dash—L. Armstrong, Westfield; Clark, Shelbyville; Bruner, Greenfield; 11 seconds.

Half-mile Run—Dale Spears, Greenwood; Blue, Greenfield; Carr, Westfield; 2 minutes 14½ seconds.

220-Yard Dash—Charles Armstrong, Westfield; L. Armstrong, Westfield; James Shannahan, Rushville; 24 seconds. (This time equals the state record made this year.)

Discus Throw—L. Armstrong, Westfield; Blue, Greenfield; Clark, Shelbyville; 97 feet 4 inches.

220-Yard Hurdle—L. Armstrong, Westfield; Conrad Gunn, Westfield; Ralph Bailey, Greenwood; 18½ seconds.

Shot Put—Robert Markley, Shelbyville; Clark, Shelbyville; Blue, Greenfield; 37 feet 9 inches.

220 Yard Hurdle—L. Armstrong, Westfield; Gunn, Westfield; Clark, Shelbyville; 27 3-5 seconds.

440-Yard Dash—Charles Armstrong, Westfield; Blue, Greenfield; Shannahan, Rushville; 56 seconds.

Broad Jump—L. Armstrong, Westfield; Verlon Rockafellow, Shelbyville; Oscar Christian, Greenwood; 19 feet 6½ inches.

Mile Run—Artie Davis, Westfield; Walter Hachl, Shelbyville; Stacy Hinkle, Rushville; 5 minutes 9 4-19 seconds.

The Harley-Davidson Two-Speed WITH STARTER

It's the last word in motorcycles. The two-speeds are selective, and the rider can shift from high to low or low to high or neutral while the machine is standing still or in motion.

The step-starter does away with the necessity of dismounting and placing the machine on the stand to start. The rider may sit in the saddle with both wheels on the ground and give either pedal a downward pull, engaging the step-starter and starting the motor.

LARGE CROWD TO ACCOMPANY TEAM

Many Fans Going to Connersville Tomorrow For Game There— Bartley or Heisman to Pitch.

ARCADIANS HOPE TO WIN

(By Doo Hiner.)

A large crowd will accompany the Rushville team to Connersville tomorrow for the game there. Because of the convenient traction schedule it is expected that at least 200 fans will make the trip to Connersville. The team will leave on the 12:20 car but many will not leave until 1:42 as the game is not called until three o'clock and this will get them there in plenty of time.

The game promises to be a pitcher's battle. Manager Remington of the Connersville team announces that he has secured either Heisman or Bartley to pitch. He will work one or the other and both are capable of making the Arcadians take notice. Both Heisman and Bartley are known here. Heisman pitched here for the Superbas and Bartley pitched for the All-Pro team of Cincinnati. Both lost but the games were worth while and the team can expect some trouble if either of these two men pitches at Connersville tomorrow.

Manager Fisher will start Patterson in the box. He believes Patterson is good enough for Connersville.

Chappell, whose subject was "The National Road." The members of the class and their themes are as follows: Elda Bentley, "Dialect Poetry and Its Place in Literature;" Mattie L. Binford, "Marconi and His Great Invention;" Ruth A. Kizer, "The American Indian," and Lena L. Ruby, "Equal Suffrage."

MANY PROPOSED BUILDINGS

Opposition Claims Undue Prominence is Given Athletics and not Enough To Education.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, May 23.—Though several Indiana educators have attacked colleges and schools in Indiana, declaring undue prominence is given athletics, the colleges are busy raising money for investment in gymnasiums. H. G. Brown, superintendent of the Lebanon schools, in an address before the Northern Indiana Teachers' Assn. recently declared "scholarship has been sacrificed to athletics to the detriment of education. The state should foster the mental resources of the people as well as the physical strength."

The announcement yesterday from Wabash college that a gymnasium fund with a goal fixed at $75,000 was about to be started, came closely after similar announcements from other colleges. Earlham college wants $50,000 for a gymnasium, and DePauw promised that "before another basketball season we will have a gymnasium." Hanover makes the brag that few colleges in the state have a better gym. Arthur Hotchkiss in charge of athletics there writes.

"Franklin has the only gymnasium of the colleges in the state that is as good or better than ours. The building here is six years old, well arranged and equipped, and has one of the fastest basketball floors, being enclosed on three sides."

At Earlham the class of 1914 has proposed to the board of trustees to dedicate its annual the Sargasso, to the proposed gymnasium, and make the profits from it a class gift to the fund. Several wealthy people are expected to make substantial gifts. One plan proposed is that each one of the one thousand members of the alumni association pledge to give $10 a year for five years, making the $50,000.

TRIMMINGS GRADUALLY DESERTING BODICE FOR SKIRT.

If you would be quite up to the moment, trim your skirt but leave the size 36, 1½ yards of 42-inch material upper part of your frock severely plain, save, perhaps, for a flaring collar of white batiste or organdy and just the merest suggestion of a frill at each wrist, or a novelty button or two.

The small, flaring collars, too, are plain save for a piping of satin or a rather decorative collar, which, of course, is accompanied by another one of organdy or batiste. There is something so fresh and crisp about these separate collars that none of us can afford to do without one. The suit shown in 8203-8212 is an excellent model for linen, one of the heavy cottons or serges; here a cream-colored novelty cotton sponge is used for the coat and a plain sponge, the same shade for the skirt. Both are piped

Teacher—Willie you may answer.

Willie—It's the day on which an aeroplane was first used in an American war.

Sammy, unable to keep silent—I know more about it than that. It happened at Vera Cruz Mexico, and it almost scared the Mexicans to death. Even the cows and horses ran away from it and the people thought it was a terrible animal and hid in their houses.

Jimmy interrupting—I know who it is. His name was Pat Bollinger.

Teacher—No! Lt. Patrick N. L.

Bollinger, of Charleston, South

Carolina—Not Pat.

Willie—That's it. And before he ever flew in an aeroplane, he commanded a submarine and once made a target record with a 12 inch gun from the Battleship South Carolina. He had light eyes and he came from one of the best families in the South and he could dance as well as he could fly and all his friends called him Pat and he never got married because so many girls liked him that he didn't know which one to propose to.

Teacher—Willie!

Sammy—There were two men in the aeroplane. Bollinger flew it but Dick Saufley rode beside him and made a chart of all the territory around Vera Cruz showing where bridges were burned, tracks torn up and where some Mexican soldiers that they flew over were throwing up entrenchments.

Starting next week the people of Rushville need not be surprised to find the city water "riled up" and with a rusty color, as Superintendent Malin announces that he will start cleaning the mains. Every day next week in some section of the city the water will be drained from the mains. Sediment and rust in the mains make it necessary that they be cleaned and it was thought best to do the work at this time of the year. All the hydrants in the city will be opened at some time next week and in this way all the mains will be freed of the rust. While it makes the water appear dirty at the time it is probably a good thing for the consumers.

UNABLE TO SEE ROCKEFELLERS

Judge Lindsay Will Have to Return to Colorado Without Accomplishing His Mission.

HAS NO BID FROM OYSTER BAY

(By United Press.)

New York, May 23.—Judge Lindsay of Denver today gave up any further attempt to see the Rockefellers in regard to the Colorado strike situation. The Denver judge was receptive for an invitation to see Col. Roosevelt at Oyster Bay today, but the bid was not forthcoming and Lindsay announced he would return to Denver late today or tomorrow.

Lindsay is accompanied by his wife and the families of several Colorado strikers who came prepared to lay before John D. Rockefeller, Jr., the true conditions. A telegraph announcement in Washington, however, warned him that none of the Rockefellers would see him.

Discriminating.
